

Andrew C. Leon Distinguished Career Award Presentation

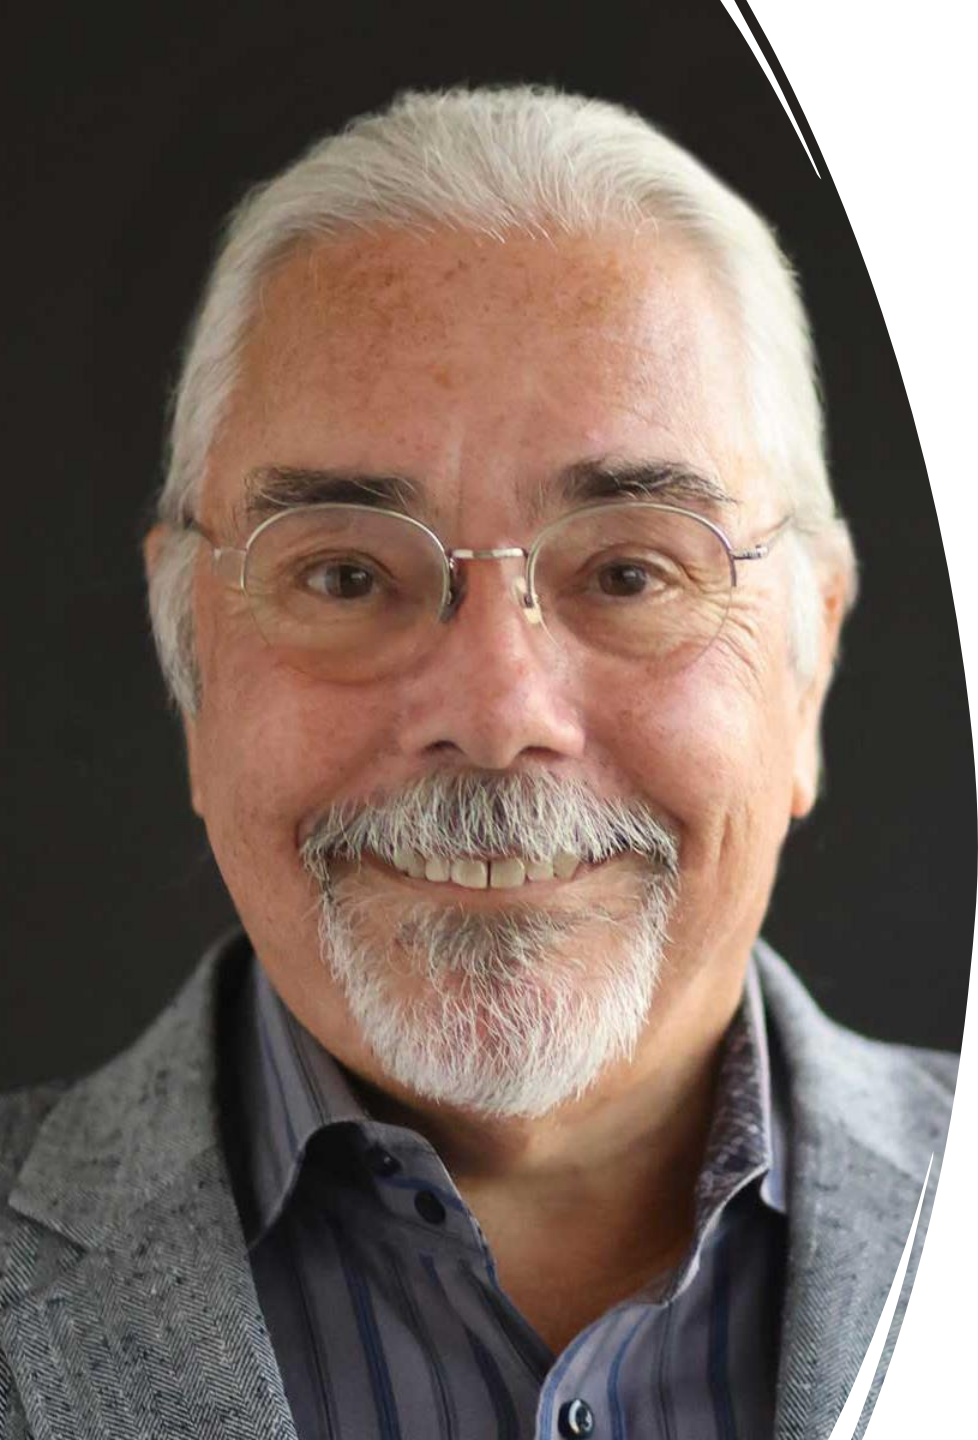

President: Gary Sachs, MD

Awards Chair: Ramy Mahmoud, MD, PhD

Andrew C. Leon, PhD

- Professor and biostatistician in psychiatry
- Weill Medical College of Cornell University
- His work heavily influenced the finding and acceptability of new drugs and treatments for mental illness
- Distinguished founding member of ISCTM

Larry Ereshefsky
PharmD, FCCP, BCPP

2023 Andrew C. Leon
Distinguished Career
Award Recipient

Larry Ereshefsky PharmD, FCCP, BCPP

- Internationally recognized thought leader in clinical translational CNS research with a proven track record in designing and performing Phase I/IIa and clinical pharmacology studies
- Leader in the application of translational drug development tools, and in the use of signal detection strategies to minimize placebo response
- 43-year career applying his experience as a clinician, scientist, and investigator to develop treatments and innovate clinical methodologies to make a difference in the lives of patients with neurodegenerative, psychiatric, and other disorders

Larry Ereshefsky PharmD, FCCP, BCPP

- Published more than 130 peer-reviewed scholarly articles and abstracts and delivered many invited presentations at professional and scientific meetings
- Served on the FDA Psychopharmacological Drugs Advisory Committee (twice) and USP Psychiatry Special Panels
- Founding member of ISCTM and an active participant since its inception in 2005
 - Member of the Executive and Scientific Committees
 - Chair and speaker in numerous meeting sessions
 - Chair of the Behavioral and Psychiatric Symptoms in Dementia Working Group
 - Co-author of several ISCTM publications
 - Consistent meeting participant