

Craig Mallinckrodt, PhD

Cortexyme

Craig Mallinckrodt is Vice President of Biostatistics at Cortexyme. Craig is a Fellow of the American Statistical Association and has won the Royal Statistical Society's award for excellence in the pharmaceutical industry. He has extensive experience in CNS drug development and has led several industry working groups and published extensively on early phase research methods, missing data, estimands, and various aspects of clinical development optimization.